SHOWTIME! JUNE 25

What memory will you take home from SHOWTIME?

Sometimes you cringe when you hear event. It can be a loaded word. Especially if it's a day of the same thing, over and over. In the case of Showtime!, though, I can promise you that the word event returns to its true meaning: a happening, and one that you won't want to miss.

It's true that it spans from 10:00 am - 2:00 pm. I'll tell you why, and give you a sense of what to expect.

Bob Saget,
Showtime! Emcee

10:00 am: Arrive, be greeted by a team of people from ValleyVillage, be offered champagne, walk past the live band, view auction items on display, purchase opportunity drawing tickets from volunteers walking around and use the tickets to bid on glorious high-value baskets of items, visit with arts and crafts vendors and purchase their wares, sit and catch up with friends and meet up with the rest of your table as they arrive at the Sheraton Universal hotel.

12:00 pm noon: Lunch, soup is plated in the ballroom, be seated, our executive director will greet everyone, we'll eat, then Bob Saget will start the show. We'll jump right into a hilarious performance from a talented and surprise comedian. Bob does Valley Village the honor of asking a fellow comedian to come and perform for our audience each year. The comedian is followed by prize drawings and then the live auction follows and is auctioneered by Councilman Dennis P. Zine along with Bob Saget. Zine and Saget have been our fabulous auction team for about ten years now and seeing them perform is worth the ticket price alone! The comedian is not the only comedy of the day! The live auction plays out and then there are a few final drawings for major prizes at the end.

The program book for Showtime! this year is filled with unique photos and histories of Valley Village's 40 years. It's a rare look into an organization that helped shaped special education and programs for people with developmental disabilities in Los Angeles and the state of California.

The deadline for advertising has been extended to June 8. All artwork must be received no later than 12:00 Noon on Friday June 10.
